To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Executive Director
Tupper Bean

Within the past few months, we've developed two tools and two self-learning resources: the Obesity Prevention and Management E-Learning Module and the Chronic Non-Cancer Pain Tool.

We've added a primary care tool on youth mental health.

Now available: Primary Care Tool on Youth Mental Health

We've added a tool for providers to detect and manage obesity in adults, youth, and children; and provide an overview of prevention and management of obesity in adults and in youth and children.

A behavioral and pharmacotherapeutic intervention available to patients.

Monitoring is needed.

We've developed more than 70 tools, resources, and programs, and directly impacted provider engagement.

Provider engagement is important to see us at Pri-MED between May 10 and 13, 2017! Expect to see us at the CEP team's exhibit at Pri-MED.

We've developed the Youth Mental Health: Anxiety and Depression Tool with LHIN-specific resources.

We've added a Youth Mental Health Navigator Tool with LHIN-specific resources.

Youth Mental Health: Anxiety and Depression Tool

The provider voice has been heard.

We give providers what they need to deliver the best care to their patients by engaging them throughout the communication process and a cohesive approach for primary care.

Core. These resources were created to help address appropriate prescribing approaches.

The Canadian Task Force on Preventive Health Care's 2015 guidelines on the prevention and management of obesity in adults, and the implementations science methods process evaluation of the implementation science intervention strategy that considers the needs and realities of providers to reasonably expect providers to do better and build a cohesive approach for primary care.

In case you missed it the first time, do not miss your opportunity to listen to our podcast on youth mental health.

As we move forward, we're constantly conducting usability sessions. Through www.cepcanada.ca you can call in, sit back, and give us feedback. You can also sign up to our CEP's newsletter - summer 2017.

We're looking forward to a busy fall.

The provider voice has been heard.

You're invited to our board.

We're hiring.